THE FORGE · PRACTICAL GENAI

AI agents: giving models tools and autonomy

AI agents: giving models tools and autonomy

A plain LLM can only do one thing: generate text. An "AI agent" is what you get when you wire that text-generation ability up to actions in the real world.

- ◆ A plain LLM only generates text; an agent can also take actions
- ◆ The loop: reason, pick a tool, get a result, decide the next step
- ◆ More autonomy means more power — and more surface area for mistakes

DAY 17 / 30

“Have you used an AI agent that surprised you with how much it could do on its own?”

Follow along – Day 18 drops tomorrow.
